Dear Anthony,

After nearly closing a few years ago last month we paid in full our financial obligation to Corporate Turnaround (who then paid off our vendors). I never had any doubt that we would get to this point that the company would start working correctly. In 2015 [REDACTED] generated close to $1 million in annual billings (with only a $4,000 credit card balance outstanding) and 2016 may be over $2 million in billings. I had faith in my abilities that Across Platforms would make it as this was my second company. The only precious commodity I was lacking was the time I needed with my payables.

Probably the biggest strategic asset Corporate Turnaround provided me was your ability to build a buffer zone between my company and a handful of aggressive vendors. When my business did not ramp up as quickly as I thought it would the pressure from my vendors made it difficult to concentrate on building the business. Corporate Turnaround's business model seems built on this win-win proposition of helping companies stay in business so they can pay off on their financial obligations to creditors.

Thanks again for supporting, and cheering on, my company these past few years. Without Corporate Turnaround I would surely be out of business. I highly recommend your services to any company who could be experiencing short-term financial distress. Corporate Turnaround was worth all its fees as you helped keep our doors open and the staff motivated for our future.

Best Regards,

Your company's results may vary. Every restructuring has a unique combination of issues and factors, including the length of participation in the program. All of these variables affect individual outcomes. There are no "typical" results. Until a debt is resolved, creditors may continue with their collection efforts, including phone calls and legal action. CT does not provide any legal services or legal advice. There are no time limits for reaching settlements. Some creditors may settle after CT's first set of offers, and others may be resolved later on.
